G. F. Culmer & Bros.

G. F. Culmer & Bros. state, this morning, that they can and will keep their ready mixed paint and paint materials at prices which defy competition. They carry every variety of paint, and sell it in any and all quantities to suit the demand of customers. It is needless for us to recommend the firm to the public; it is so well known that no recommendation from us could add anything to the popularity of the energetic proprietors of the establishment. They do not propose to be outdone, and will therefore suit the requirements of patrons.

THE VETO.

How it is Received by the Country.

San Francisco, 5.—The Call publishes an interview with John F. Swift, extremely commissioner to China, who says regarding the twenty years' suspension clause of the Chinese bill, that the commissioners of both countries contemplated a considerably longer period when discussing the terms of the treaty. The Chinese commissioners understood even better than we did the problem of our competition in labor, and were willing to agree to means of relief. The time of suspension was thoroughly discussed, and it was agreed that a suspension of thirty-three years or one generation would be necessary to remedy the evils complained of. I fully hoped the suspension could have been procured for thirty years, and the Chinese government would not have considered the faith of the treaty trespassed upon if it had been made fifty years or even more.

Crime and Casualty.

Odesa, 4.—Strenikoff's assassin was hanged yesterday.
Grayling Station, 4.—Of the $5,000 in express packages, lost here last November, by the carelessness of the Michigan Central Railroad Company, $6,000 was found in the house of a poor laborer, who lately excited suspicion by branching out luxuriously. He confessed the theft.

New York, 4.—While workmen were engaged in pulling down a building on James street, to-day, the walls suddenly collapsed, burying a number of children who were playing in an adjoining yard.
Three bodies are thus far recovered.

Mrs. Ellen McFall, aged twenty-five, was shot and mortally wounded this afternoon by her husband, John, a painter.

Sergeant Mason.

Washington, 4.—All members were present at the regular cabinet meeting today. After the disposition of the Chinese question the case of Sergeant Mason was taken up, and the conclusion was reached that the President would take no action in the case until the question pending in the United States Supreme Court bearing upon the legality of Mason's imprisonment was decided. The secretary of war made a report of the case, in which, it is understood, he sustains the views advanced by Judge Advocate-General Swain, that the sentence of the court martial is invalid.

Election Notes.

Kansas, City, 4.—The election is quiet, but trouble is feared between the negroes and Irish on account of yesterday's riot.
Chicago, 4.—The election was quiet.
Only local issues were involved. No interest.
Levi, 4.—In five out of six wards Dugan, republican, for mayor, has a majority of 529. Republicans elect five of the six aldermen, and other city officers.

Release of Prisoners.

New York, 4.—A Washington special to the Commercial Advertiser, says: The secretary of state is in receipt of a cable dispatch from Minister Lowell, to the effect that the British government has released unconditionally three of the imprisoned Americans.

The James Murder.

Kansas City, 4.—No developments regarding the James killing. The government has ordered the officials of St. Joe to give James' body to his wife and mother.

Kansas City, 5.—Governor Crittenden was in the city to-day, and stated that Jesse James' body would not be sent from St. Joseph until a party of five sent from here to recognize it officially. had made their report. The remains will be taken from St. Joseph, to-morrow, to Kearney, Mo., near which place the mother of the desperado lives and there interred. The governor has not yet decided what will be done with Ford, the slayer of James; nor has he determined to whom the $10,000 reward offered for the body of Jesse James, dead or alive, will be given. The inquest was held at St. Joseph this morning and the verdict was that Jesse James came to his death at that place, Robert Ford, Mrs. Samuel's brother of Charles James is; he is in the hands of the law. She met Dick James as a member of the gang who gave Little, the brother of the leader, and called him a traitor.

St. Joseph, Mo., 5.—Prosecuting Attorney Wallace and Dick Little arrived this morning, and Captain Ford, brother of Jesse James, and Bob, says he is brother of Charles James is; he is in

XLVII CONGRESS.

REGULAR SESSION.

SENATE.

Morgan's resolution favoring more reciprocal trade between the United States and Mexico passed.

After the morning hour, Farley moved to take up the vetoed bill.

Hoar objected that it was out of order, Ingalls being entitled to the floor.

Bayard held that the vetoed bill was first in order. Republicans favored referring the bill to the committee on foreign relations. Some republicans, who had voted for the bill, did not seem to desire to vote again either for or against.

Sherman deprecated haste and favored a regular order. He believed the foreign relations committee would report the bill to meet the views of the people and the President.

Ingalls regarded the consideration as a question of privilege, and favored immediate action. The Senate should decide to pass it over the veto at once. He opposed referring, and was ready to vote on the bill.

Farley's motion was adopted 29 to 25.
Cameron, of Wisconsin, Jones and Miller voted with the democrats. Sherman moved to refer to the foreign committee.
The Presidential court bill coming up as unfinished business, Farley moved to lay it aside and proceed with the vetoed anti-Chinese bill.

A discussion arising upon the question whether the veto measure had not precedence of unfinished business, Harris moved to postpone unfinished business.
Bayard said he understood there was considerable excitement in California on the subject, and asked the senators of that state what was their wish. He was disposed to be governed somewhat by that.

Farley replied that he had no hesitation in saying the unanimous sentiment of his people was in favor of action on the veto. His information was that excitement in San Francisco was so great that violence was apprehended.

Sherman said there was no disposition on the republican side to delay action, but they were not disposed to take up the Chinese bill because violence was threatened somewhere. That was not the way to secure action. That some measure on the Chinese question ought to be passed was not disputed, as between the President and the House; but the President thought Congress had proposed to violate a treaty. He thought it advisable to allow the committee on foreign relations to take the bill, and report a measure which would meet the objections in the veto.

Farley replied that until a vote was taken, the Senate could not tell whether the vetoed bill would pass over the veto, and therefore it was premature to talk of referring to a committee. For the same reason he regarded the bill introduced by his colleague this morning as premature.

Ingalls took issue with Sherman as to the propriety of referring the bill to a committee, contending that the Constitution required a direct vote on the question and did not recognize any attempt to plow around the stump, and prepare a new proposition by way of avoiding the objections of the executive. A vote being taken, Harris' motion prevailed—yeas 29, nays 25. The vote was a party one, except that Cameron, of Wisconsin, Jones, of Nevada, and Miller, of California, voted with the democrats; and Davis, of Illinois, and Mahone voted no with the republicans.

The Chinese bill was then taken up without opposition. Sherman moved to refer the bill and message to the committee on foreign relations. He supported, and elaborated the objections of the President and particularly of the Chinese minister and urged as there was no occasion for haste measure, they should be care
